My 7 yr old daughter stayed up 5 minutes past her 8pm bedtime a few weeks ago and accidentally watched the first 5 minutes of NCIS. The scene that came on at 8pm on the dot was one of a naked screaming woman tied to a bed who was then dead, bloody and naked one minute later. It is horrifying. Most children I know her age stay up later than that. Why is this OK programming for children or anyone to see? Why is there such HUGE disconnect in that it is NOT OK to see a perfectly healthy body part on TV but OK to see a dismembered dead bloody body part. Are we all totally numb? Who decides that this is OK? Does no one making these decisions have children under the age of 10? It is so upsetting as a parent to have so little control over this issue. Why is graphic disturbing violence OK? Please let me know who I can speak to about this.
