Comments	While hosting NBC's Saturday Night Live, Jamie Foxx joked about how in his new film "Django Unchained," "I kill all the white people in the movie. How great is that?" He then went on a rant about how President (whom he called "our lord and savior two weeks ago at the BET awards) is going to be "blacker" in his second term. I find this discourse at best crude and at worst racist (yes, black people can be racist too!) and threatening. NBC should be fined for fostering racial hatred and divisiveness. This is abhorrent.

Comments	I am shocked at a segment that I just viewed on NBC's Saturday Night Live that aired on 1/12/13. The segment was an extremely racist and stereotypical view of the Chinese race, and featured three Caucasian actors portraying three Chinese workers. The segment, a satire on the tech flaws of Apple's iphone, featured a face to face meeting with three actors portraying tech critics from the United States and three actors portraying "Chinese" workers. The Caucasians portraying the Chinese workers, were, I'm sure, meant to look and sound funny, but to people of Asian descent, including me, this was inappropriately racist material. Caucasians portraying Asians with insultingly exaggerated accents is offensive. Thank you for your attention to this matter, (b) (6)

Comments	SNL carried a sketch depicting Jesus Christ as a vengeful killer. I have a terrific sense of humor, however insulting the savior of millions is very disturbing, and falls in line with our scriptures regarding unfair persecution by the masses. Would the same standard be applied to allowing a depiction of the Muslim prophet muhammad have been aired in the same way? Depicting a man of peace as a murderer is the antithesis of our savior. Would depicting slavery of African Americans as a good thing be acceptable? I am just as offended as they would be. The fact that Christians do not respond in the same way as Muslims do over negative depictions of their holy man, goes to show the difference, and makes us an easy target for discriminatory portrayals. This sketch was knowingly inflammatory and divisive beforehand, and the Government is supposed to enforce, within reason, no distinction is made between race, color, religion, sex, etc. Thank you for your time.

My cable TV is provided by Comcast. I was watching a (recorded) SNL on Channel 707, WHDH, NBC from 10:00-11:00pm, EST. At the beginning, RIGHT before Set Meyers said "...It's SNL from NY..!". he said..."A retarded man was smart enough to..., but NOT smart enough to...". I certainly HOPE that the R-word is an obscene word! I hope! NBC / NBCUniversal / Comcast didn't bleep the word. How COMPLETELY inappropriate!

On Nov. 15, around 10:30> I saw SNL (Saturday Night Live) - the beginning of the skit. It was very unnerving, there was a comment in the opening by the comedian about American Idol and that to my recollection the "Retard" was able to make the auditions but not the finals> or something to that nature. I aide handicap and family being of such, I have Non-Chronic Anxiety myself, and found such very wrong due to I am sure there are other family's that may watch such a program together for a usual laugh that may have such in there family. I also, know of this programs colorful genre of material but this was over the line be it is similar to any other remark of slur to race> not that of black or white and made from a person of that race but that to the "N" word.

If find that more prime time shows have been slipping in words that historically were limited to cable networks and in later hour programming. I am offended that we are allowing our culture to devolve into language that is not uplifting and only reduces the quality of communication.

Description

I have owned Apple iPhones for years and have been able to access my Time Warner Cable emails through the iPhone email app. Two weeks ago I stopped being able to SEND email via my iPhone. I went to the TWC website for instructions, but they didn't work. I spent literally hours on the phone with TWC technicians but they couldn't help me. TWC blamed it on Apple. I went to the Apple store (where the techs are significantly more competent than those at TWC) and they said TWC emails are constant problems. They tried to help me for an hour to no avail. This morning to the TWC store and asked how i can send email from my iPhone. They told me I CANNOT use the Apple mail app that I use with gmail, verizon, my university and my business email accounts. WHAT?!!!! Instead I am supposed to use the internet feature on the smartphone and log on to TWC;s antiquated email system with font sizes that are unreadable. This worked until 2 weeks ago. What in the world is going on at TWC? The storeclerk told me they are an internet provider, not an emailservice provider. The only reason I have maintained my TWC cable and TV service for the past 15 years is because everyone knows my email address. They know that consumers are loathe to change ISPs because they want to maintain email addresses. Yet, they CANNOT either 1) adapt their software to the #1 smartphone in the world (iPhones) or 2) develop an app that makes the print size and file organization of their emails on smartphones legible -- currently the font size is likely 1/4 point (versus 10 point on my apple mailapp.) Moreover, TWC must inform all of its technical staff how to deal with technical issues. I get a different answer from each person I talk to at TWC.

Saturday Night Live mocked TWC and their horrendous services over the weekend. That shows that I am not the only person who has an iPhone and wants to actually be able to read and send TWC emails from it. I hope the FCC gets on TWC's case and makes them fix their problems.

On a separate note, I have a new TV that works fine when I watch DVDs. However, at least once a night the sound goes out or the picture turns into hundreds of foggy squares. It comes back in a few moments. However, I'm paying close to $200/month for very shoddy service.

I hope TWC receives a copy of this email.

I submitted a complaint few minutes about regarding XFINITY/Comcast showing no closed captioned on NBC News and Access Hollywood (7 pm to 7:30 pm and 7:30 pm to 8:00 pm EST). On Monday, December 21, 2014 and December 8, 2014 on NBC which is KOB in Alamogordo Saturday Night Live was aired at 7 pm. I felt that this show was aired at an inappropriate time especially since it was the Christmas show suggesting that men should give women their penis in a box as a present. As a older woman I was offended let alone thinking that younger children would have the opportunity to see the program being that it was aired during prime time on a local channel.

Description

Yesterday my TV was on NBC at 8pm when a program was on. The program was SNL 40. I didn't expect to hear what I heard because of the time it aired. I understand that all bets are off when SNL airs at its regular time. On this occasion Justin Timberlake said "Dick" in a box. This is a familiar skit; it should have not been aired at that time though. It was a choreographed skit with Jimmy Kimmel so there is 0 chance that it was a slip up. They simply have no fear of reprisal from the FCC. Why should they? It's not like the FCC has acted on profanity in the past. This wasn't a cable channel this time. This aired on a regular channel.

Dear Sirs,

I found it highly dubious that this much heralded program began with a viewer discretion warning saying something to the effect that it was recorded for later viewing. It began with a profane attempt at humour referencing 'dick in a box'. This was at 8pm and in clear violation of the standards in the law. There were other profanities before the 10pm deadline too numerous to mention. But really this is a mockery of the law and offensive to family viewing standards.

Sincerely,

Description

On Saturday, February 21 at approximately 10:00-10:22 pm, Saturday Night Live aired old clips of the late comedian Richard Pryor which aired the word or derogatory and racist name 'nigger.' Since it was a non-cable channel, I had no reason to fear the language, therefore my children were in the room. However, I had no idea that my local NBC network would air such derogatory and racist language which has a very pejorative history in the United States. Now, I am left to explain to my children why television has used this word to describe black people when I have taught them that the word is wrong, derogatory, and hateful.

Description

I was watching a Saturday Night Live rerun on VH1 in New York City on April 25 and sometime between 8:15pm and 8:35pm EST there was an extremely graphic and inappropriate commercial for CDC.gov that portrayed a woman on a hospital bed with blood oozing out of her eyes. As someone with a high tolerance for graphic images and profanity, this image was so excessively disturbing to me that I felt compelled to complain and request that it get removed or at least pushed back to a much later hour. Moreover, the trend of anti-smoking lobbyists using gross-out imagery as a means to discourage smoking is problematic and harmful to their own cause. Case in point, I had to rewind the commercial to find out what organization was behind it and what they were even trying to advertise, because the disgusting image of the woman's bloody eyeball was the only thing about it that I even remembered after it was over. These types of commercials accomplish nothing aside from inducing nightmares and vomit on their audience.

Description

The so called comedy show delivered by Louis C.K. sunk to a new low in broadcast history. I was shocked that the NBC network allowed anyone to make fun of molestation victims. It was the most offensive thing I have ever seen on television. I can't believe our government who controls abusive language, inappropriate activity and other bad behavior allowed this kind of attack on innocent molestation victims. The show reveled in making those who have been victimized in this way become victims again. I want to know why and how this could have happened on a show that is regulated by the FCC. I also want to know if they will receive a fine which I would strongly suggest. Further I think its appropriate that an apology be given by NBC to all the victims who were offended. It wasn't cute or cutting edge. It was just plain cruel.

My name is Candyce Brokaw and I am the Executive Director Survivors Art Foundation 501(c)3 not for profit organization

We have members is 47 states and 17 countries , many of whom are childhood sexual abuse survivors

By NBC and Lorne Michael allowing Louie CK to say " having sex with children must be amazing" [which is the definition of what a actually pedophile is]

Then ALL INVOLVED have condoned the act of abusing children!!!"

I am a survivor of rape, incest and child abuse, I have spoken out on Capitol Hill with the Surgeon General of the United States, and wrote a handbook to prevent child abuse with the MS Foundation.

I am so offended, that I personally will never watch Louie CK or Saturday Night Live again. And I would hope that many of our membership will not either.

And I think someone should take a look at Louie CK's computer, because his comedy is based mostly on his life and perceptions, thus is he really a pedophile ?

His statement basically gave permission to many of the very young audience watching this show, that may not have the judgement to not be a child molester

I do not know what to say except I am appalled

Sincerely,

Candyce Brokaw

Description

FCC-

I have never contacted any organization to complain about something aired on television or in a movie, I've always take the side that "if you don't like it...turn it off". This instance however was different I had to respond out of conscience, because this has to stop somewhere. You hold responsibility in your industry, to find a way to prevent this in the future.

When I tuned into Saturdays' show and heard the bit that "Louis CK" did on child molesters, I was viscerally offended. With this country of ours at 1 in 5, and 1 in 20 for boys being molested, this was unconscionable. I realize that this comedian is supposedly popular, but stooping to this level to get attention for his tour and wallet was an all-time low. I myself was molested as a child and when I told my mother at five, was slapped and told not to ever repeat what I'd said because I didn't know what I was talking about. As I was growing up I suffered from bouts of depression, and to this day have no self-esteem. Those are my problems however, and I'm not using them as a crutch here but a platform to illustrate what this "bit" of his did when I heard it. His attempt to get attention at all the victims expense, took me back to that scared little girl standing in the kitchen telling her mom the first time and being rebuked and not believed. I pray that someone without my strength and faith wasn't watching the show say to see Rhianna, and heard this "bit" at a pivotal moment in their life. Again some awful statistics in this country, 43% of molested children think or commit suicide, over 1800 children die each year from molestation under the age of 9.

Well sir/or Ms., I've said what I wrote this for. I'm asking you to take a stand and somehow react now with a rebuttal to the damage this "comedian" caused with his "bit". Use your power, clout and influence to correct this and do something good to replace this terrible intentional act with. This was unconscionable, and truly evil, and I'm not a "radical" saying this sir. Remember the quote, "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing". I end with that thought, be the "good men and women" that I know you are.

Regards- (b) (6)

Problem Description

In the Little Mermaid sketch, Medusa says that Ariel's singing sounds like a "Baby having sex."

That is offensive because it is a reference to child pornography. Millions of viewers will now be trying to think of this horrendous act and it could possibly give others ideas to try this against our infants. The network sensors should have muted this during the delay.

Show began with a profane, indecent, and insensitive parody of Jesus Christ swearing and murdering people. This is supposed to be a comedy show but instead showed a complete wreckless disregard for the beliefs of a majority of Americans.

The first amendment do the Constitution certainly protects the beliefs of the producers of thinks show but where is the protection do decency for society. Let them take their obscenity to cabal TV. What'S next, parodies of Adolph Hitler starving and gassing innocent people under the guise of comedy?

 South Park

Problem Description

In April of 2013 I began advertising my company and its project under the alias name of Nika Mitch. I had unusual activity where I had a high number of hits, and out of nowhere the numbers plummeted in August of 2013. In November of 2013 I opened a new Facebook account, where I asked those in the music industry to do the right thing, and if not I would go to the public about their unethical behavior. I waited for a response, and stated that I would appreciate one, being the holidays were coming up. At this time I began noticing content on certain shows to coincide with the subject matters and pictures on the said account.

First it began with South Park's episodes in the prior season, to the Steve Colbert Report, the Simpson's and Saturday Night Live's Christmas specials that there were enough to edifice multiple variables were absorbing their fuel from a common resource be it my Facebook account or those who are extorting me. For instance, my company started a musical journey where I advertise the international DJs I represent, while promoting hip-hop culture, myself as an artist, my hip-hop/education/intelligence movement and is a place one goes to find inspiration and enlightenment. My musical journey is based off of pictures I took while traveling to various cities, and songs that I produced. In the South Park episode, two of the characters, Stan and Cartmen, are fighting over who found the cow first and the idea to bring world peace. Stan, becomes Ghandi who is eating other peoples feces in order to try to save the world since Cartmen is taking all of the credit for the idea he stole from Stan. The next episode of a brunette girl, chubby with glasses (I am brunette and wore my glasses all summer long when the exploitation was taking place) was used as the main character, and at the end Kanye West (a player in the exploitation) is reading a book to Cindy on how a girl is jealous and can never be as great as Beyonce. These were the subject matters I was posting on my facebook account being that Beyonce allegedly stole my visual album idea, and what appears to continues to exploit and steal my marketing plan.

Another example, the Simpsons holiday special they used bicycles with a Dr. Seuss theme to depict grammar school rhyming two variables that are found in the other shows being that my rhyming is under par due to my dyslexia. Furthermore, the main theme of my song that evolved around my art project/marketing plan at the time was bicycles, inspiration and the Crusades. At the end of the show there is a picture of Holmer Simpson bending over with his rear end exposed, and another character with a paddle about to smack Holmer's behind with a rhyming statement in the back. I was raped in a frat house during college, and wrote about it to inspire and help other victims. There was also a frat molestation/drunk rape joke made on SNL during this time period. A statement was also made towards the end of the Simpsons, but I cannot remember the exact words at the moment, nor can I find it on-line after I mentioned something about it on my Facebook page.

As SNL has multiple episodes with evidence, I only noticed one episode from the Colbert Report where the pictures and dialogue content matching the exact timeline on my Facebook and Wordpress blog. I felt harassed and mentally abused that such rumors could be behind my name. Secondly how did these people know about my page? Lastly, their behavior was quite appalling. Take Louis C.K.'s episode of Saturday Night Live, where the baby boss skit was changed from an employee being fired to Louis C.K., acting as a husband bringing his wife to meet his boss. This was shortly after writing an e-mail to NBC. Also, at the time that I was seeing a cause and effect on my page, I asked if there was a video and if it contained anal rape. In the said episode, the said actor went to the doctor's office to see if there was a Darth Vader action figure stuck up his rear, and that it is always good to just check (which is what I was trying to do, and yes I understand the behavior is quite unusual). At the end of the episode there is also a rainbow, the colors of my logo.

This then brings me to a commercial that was done at the same time. As mentioned not only did I scatter about my rapings online, but also asked if I were masked. My Facebook advertisement/digital puzzle's structure is made up of different sectors that gives a hint of what is to come in the next post in order to make the musical journey interesting, and enlighten the subconscious to being aware of every variable in an equation. I saw a similar structure in the FIAT 2013 commercial where the same figures with sparkles around it is shown in other medias, such as during a Conan O'Brien commercial with rainbows, fishes like dolphins or whales, (my trademark is of a rainbow colored idealistic waves on a beach), horses, bears and stars. After there is a cat where it says something about turbo, a car riding the waves in turbo gear with a statement of "I am coming to steal your mermaid", and the next screen shot is of people masked and dressed in different colored hoodies that depicted the rainbow, tied up, bent over while running around the car. At the end of the said commercial it states, "Endless Fun" in different colors. Right before this I re-released a song named "Colors", and was going through my crazed era because of what I was dealing with. The genres of music is the same as those involved in the exploitation scandal, and are using the colors of the rainbow as their marketing plan as well. These people are not only using content from my site, using it towards their creative and monetary gains, but while doing so they are mocking me. I can send the list and details of each episode and my sites as soon as possible, but for some reason I cannot access any of the said shows websites from my computer. I began recording videos because I found myself not able to access their sites after writing about them on my facebook page and warning them of filing suite. This situation from the outside may appear absurd and delusional, but with evidence provided, reality will up rise for all of these people have a common connection to the most recent Beyonce album. I appreciate your time. In addition, I cannot get a lawyer because no law firm will call me back, and they are aware that I want to take legal action.

"Candy Slice" - Saturday Night

Problem Description

Saturday Night Live replayed a 1979 episode. One skit with Bill Murray and a character named "Candy Slice" had a segment where "candy" was singing a song to Mick Jagger, where she repeatedly and clearly repeated a line saying "I am your biggest Fucked up fan". This was repeated over and over. I am not sure of what is allowed anymore, and I regret to notice that more and more profanity is allowed on public television, but this is clearly unacceptable for over the air public broadcasting. I am sure it was bleeped when it first aired in the seventies.

Good morning. My 7 year old son enjoys watching 15 minutes of Ben10 on Cartoon Network between 7:15 and 7:30 am - before school. Yahoo is running a commercial for Saturday Night Live in which Will Ferrel uses the word "damn." I realize that word isn't censored typically on TV, but isn't there a rule against targeting young audiences to encourage them to watch shows geared toward adults?

Thanks in advance for any information you can provide.

I was watching Saturday Night Live and musical guest Kanye West was singing. In the lyrics he says more than once "I would rather be a Prick than a Swallower". No one needs to be a genius to figure out he is saying he would rather be a penis than the one giving oral sex. I'm not a total prude, but I thought the lyrics were inappropriate for network TV. I love Saturday Night Live and have watched it for years. But tonight I thought the music went beyond decency. And, some of his lyrics could have been construed as anti white people. I don't feel it has a place on Network TV.

Problem Description

I was watching Saturday Night Live and musical guest Kanye West was singing. In the lyrics he says more than once "I would rather be a Prick than a Swallower". No one needs to be a genius to figure out he is saying he would rather be a penis than the one giving oral sex. I'm not a total prude, but I thought the lyrics were inappropriate for network TV. I love Saturday Night Live and have watched it for years. But tonight I thought the music went beyond decency. And, some of his lyrics could have been construed as anti white people. I don't feel it has a place on Network TV.

During a broadcast of Saturday Night Live, a graphic, disturbing, and obscene commercial ran regarding Terrie who had part of her throat removed seemingly due to throat cancer. This sick and disturbing line of commercials is also being run as a billboard ad pm Route 60 in Huntington and it needs to STOP IMMEDIATELY!!! I was with a 9-year-old child who saw the billboard and almost threw up looking at the billboard. If this were billboards or advertisements on TV of a naked woman with her legs spread, it would be shut down immediately, but this is far more disturbing and graphic than that! These are photos and videos of women with holes in their necks!!! I demand this kind of grotesque advertisements be put to an end immediately.

During the early (rerun) version of "Saturday Night Live", WBAL-TV ran a commercial for "Hannibal" that explicitly showed flayed and possibly eviscerated human bodies of murder victims hanging by hooks or other methods. It was so revolting that it induced within me a sense of nausea (I am a 55yr old male). I already avoid the FOX broadcast channel for its commercials for "The Following", and CBS for "Criminal Minds" (a recent commercial showed the collection and storage of human blood from murder victims).

On what bases can NBC (et al.) show commercials with such violent, disturbing, and insulting content? How can one select and watch a show when the contents of the commercials are unknown?

PLEASE NOTE: These types of commercials are NOT limited to post 10PM. I have seen them as early as the 8PM hour. In fact, at least one commercial of this "type" was shown during the Superbowl.

PLEASE REMEMBER: I am writing about the showing of violent and revolting COMMERCIALS during otherwise "acceptable" TV programming.

Problem Description

While watching Saturday Night Live with my 11 year old daughter at around 11:50 PM the evening of 3/2/2013, we were exposed by inappropriate language. The show was doing a sketch on Barnes and Noble employees meeting. The skit started out being crude with constant "bitch" and other profanity. However, I was shocked that the term "dick head" was used on network TV. That was a term used to describe one of the characters in the skit.

SNL has historically pushed the envelop and seems to get away with it. Perhaps it is this show that has made our FCC numb to profanity and disgusting content our kids are now exposed to in prime time. However, I will not allow this incident to travel under the radar. Clearly, this word could have been masked so my daughter and all other kids would not be exposed to such disgusting humor on a network TV show. This show was taped earlier so it certainly could have been edited out of the 11:30 showing.

We expect the FCC to police these shows to filter over the top language and content. It is not fair for us to expect this type of content to come into our homes via network TV. Please ensure us that you are doing your job by protecting our children from this form of filth. The show seems to be on the decline and perhaps is grasping at straws to create humor.

Sincerely,

(b) (6)

Im usually one of the parents that believe in turning the channel when you dont agree with whats on but I find this situation to be disturbing on so many levels.

Im not understanding why Nickelodeon has taken Justin Timberlakes "D### in a Box" and replaced it with "Fart in a Jar" I am so disturbed by this. Are they really incapable of creative thought to the point of stealing from Saturday Night Live and adding farts for children's programming? And they are allowing young girls to dance and parade around to a song that is easily recognizable to any adult young or old as D in a Box. They are also interrupting regularly scheduled programming which makes it hard to monitor when this show will be on.

They can not be allowed to interrupt a childrens show to display inappropriate sexual content.

I can't stand the fact that they would not be allowed to do that skit if it were Mohommad, or Budda, or any other prophet that isn't Christian. I want to know, if they did this skit with Mohommad, would it have been aired? i am not Catholic, and not some religious freak, but I do believe, and I try really hard to raise my children with RESPECT. Saturday Night Live aired a segment on Christ, Him coming down on Cross and shooting people. This deplorable and I demand you investigate this terribly offensive material that deeply offends the very heart of our religion. This material was grossly obscene, profane and indecent for example, "He will preach anything but forgiveness". It shows Jesus and his disciples conspiring against the Romans, Him killing others and Judas with a machine gun and blood splashing on a statue of the Virgin Mary. Although I recognize free speech as part of our Constitution, this SNL segment will not be tolerated. You must reprimand SNL for this. Please, I ask that FCC do something about this outrage against the very heart of Christianity.

This program has just done the worst thing I have ever seen on TV. It has mocked Christians in the most hateful way. They showed Jesus Christ killing people in very bloody ways even splitting a guys head wide open. And it also showed the apostles wanting to kill people. This is against Christian teaching and Christian History. This skit was highly offensive. Its clearly made to attack Jesus Christ and Christianity. Almost every week the Saturday Night Live show has some sort of attack on Christianity and FCC does nothing hopefully you will take action this time.

And you also did nothing when they showed pro-homosexual episode multiple men making out with each other and this was a repeated skit on many episodes. Kids watched these pro-homosexual episode and this recent Anti-christian episode.

What is the point of the FCC if you dont protect citizens? Do you have a biased against Christianity and do you have a bias that is for promoting homosexuality?

I will wait for your email because this was on a public channel not even on cable and children saw this.

if you would like a link to the video of this hateful Skit please let me know I will reply with one otherwise you can just look up it up on a search engine (google) by typing in DJesus Uncrossed SNL.

Problem Description

On Sunday 2/3 around 9:00pm, NBC was airing a special on the history of Saturday Night Live. The show was highlighting a skit with Chevy Chase and Richard Prior. Chevy Chase asked Richard Prior to say the first word that came to mind when he said his word. It started off benign, but turned as Chevy Chase said Negro to which Prior responded 'Honky', the Chase said the full N word, to which Prior responded something to the effect of 'Double Honky'

I understand NBC wanted to maintain authenticity as the skit originally aired, but the N' word should have been bleeped.

It is appalling to see ?ABC?s World News Now? report national and world horrific death and destruction while they laugh and joke during the entire broadcast. What kind of message is that sending ? It is not the Saturday Night live (SNL) comedy show ! This has serious potential to cause national or international problems and should be reviewed by the FCC regarding content and/or message they are portraying of tragedies at hand.

Problem Description

Regarding Saturday Night Live Season 38, Episode 12 aired on 01/28/2013 (Note: You can view the episode on Hulu. The Rosetta Stone fake commercial comes on 11 minutes into the show):

Saturday Night Live did a satire commercial, showing men using Rosetta Stone to learn Thai, so that they could have sex with children being trafficked in the sex slavery industry in Thailand and Cambodia. NBC and Saturday Night Live really crossed the line on making fun of a tragic humanitarian issue, where little boys and girls are being forced to have sex up to 40 times a day at the threat of being beaten, mutilated, tortured and killed if they don't.

I'm am pleading that the FCC will recognize the seriousness of this situation and force Saturday Night Live and NBC to release a public apology and donate a sizable sum to one or more of the agencies around the world trying to raise awareness and bring an end to this despicable humanitarian issue. Tonight aired the The first Five years SNL a old richard pryor chevy chase skit was used.. really at 8:30 at night the word NIGGER still. This skit was used as a conscious decision . Children at still up everybody isn't watching the superbowl. I personally was offended. The skit was word association.

Here is just a little but..

Interviewer: [ casually ] "Negro".

Mr. Wilson: "Whitey".

Interviewer: "Tarbaby".

Mr. Wilson: [ silent, sure he didn't hear what he thinks he heard ] What'd you say?

Interviewer: [ repeating ] "Tarbaby".

Mr. Wilson: "Ofay".

Interviewer: "Colored".

Mr. Wilson: "Redneck".

Interviewer: "Junglebunny".

Mr. Wilson: [ starting to get angry ] "Peckerwood!"

Interviewer: "Burrhead".

Mr. Wilson: [ defensive ] "Cracker!"

Interviewer: [ aggressive ] "Spearchucker".

Mr. Wilson: "White trash!"

Interviewer: "Jungle Bunny!"

Mr. Wilson: [ upset ] "Honky!"

Interviewer: "Spade!"

Mr. Wilson: [ really upset ] "Honky Honky!"

Interviewer: [ relentless ] "Nigger!"

Mr. Wilson: [ immediate ] "Dead honky!"

Problem Description

Apparently this was a re-broadcast of a program aired at Halloween. There is a comedy skit which repeatedly referred to and then depicted anal sex, rape and bestiality involving a man dressed in a hairy, white Yeti costume. By the end of the skit, the victim of the sexual attack has a change of heart and is depicted as being converted into accepting the rapist's love. I don't think women's rights groups would accept this type of depiction involving a woman today. I am offended by the gay acceptance message this skit portrays. The implication is clear, if we got past our fear and tried anal sex, we would like it and then accept it.

Jamie Foxx is offensive. I is happy and bragging about "killing all the white people" in his movie and it is so "Black". I am sick and tired of people being racist on TV because they are non-white. If this were a white person it would have been pulled off the air.

SNL should be pull off the air.

Thank you

Jamie Foxx's opening monologue was filled with racial remarks against white people and had possible offensive content included, as well as violent though implied. This episode also had quite a bit of the use of the word "bitch". The opening was quite disturbing and I feel that the viewers of this show may not be able to accurately determine the possible danger of this kind of commentary on tv.

Problem Description

THE SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE SHOW ON DECEMBER 8, 2012 WAS HOSTED BY JAMIE FOXX. THIS SHOW CONTAINED NUMEROUS SKITS WITH RACIST OVERTONES. IN ADDITION, MR. FOXX'S MONOLOGUE INCLUDING HIS RANTING ABOUT "BLACK...." THROUGHOUT. HE ALSO BRAGGED ABOUT HIS NEWEST MOVIE IN WHICH HE "KILLED ALL THE WHITE PEOPLE." HIS BEHAVIOR AND WORDS WERE EXTREMELY OFFENSIVE AND RACIST. IF A WHITE ACTOR HAD MADE A SIMILAR COMMENT ABOUT KILLING BLACK PEOPLE, I AM CONFIDENT THE CENSORS WOULD NOT HAVE ALLOWED AIRING. SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE AND MR. FOXX SHOULD BE FINED AND SANCTIONED FOR THIS REPRENHENSIBLE AND OFFENSIVE CONTENT. I HAVE BEEN A VIEWER OF THIS PROGRAM FOR OVER TWENTY YEARS AND WILL NEVER WATCH THIS PROGRAM AGAIN.

THANK YOU.

HI:

This has me very concerned for my safety and many others.

Last night on Saturday night live Jamie Fox called for the killing of all white people. This occurred during his monolog at the beginning of the show. All through his threat he used Obama's name. I want to make a formal complaint against NBC, Saturday Night Live and Jamie Fox. Jamie Fox needs to be removed from society until this threat is over.

Problem Description

The Saturday Night Live rerun Christmas program was not appropriate for the time it was broadcast. The program used obscene language such as "son of a bitch" on several occasions. The content was indecent with sexual content and not designed to be broadcast for the children that may be watching at this early hour. Further it's subject was Christmas and would attract a younger audience only to be assaulted with anti-christian and obscene languages and messages. This goes beyond bad taste for the showing time. It was poor judgement by the network to air such material and should be associated with substantial fines and restrictions. Contact with the network to file a complaint required submitting my name to a market based data base and a 24hour wait. Also not good judgement.

This show is the most degenerate show I have seen. I couldn't find anything decent on tv so I thought I would check out Saturday Night Live. I couldn't believe how this show has changed from years ago. Two men are passionately kissing and the one man lifts up the other's shirts and proceeds to feel up the other man. Television has changed so much when things were meaningful and moral. There are no morals on tv just denegerative behavior. Our kids and grandkids are getting the wrong message. That wierd sex and criminal behavior are good for this country. This is not only on tv but at movie theaters. Adults need inspiration and encouragement and values. So do kids. This media is misleading and going down the wrong path. Please quit allowing media to make humans stupid. Make rules to allow better standards for our watching tv and movies. You are very close to allowing obscene shows. Quit allowing this.

More monitoring and rules need to clearly be made for television shows.

I changed the channel to see why SNL was on a weekday. I did not like what I saw. It was not funny to see two men passionately kissing and then one pulling the other man's shirt to feel him up.

I am shocked at the crap (violence and idiot shows) that is on tv that is why I watch cable educational channels.

We are getting stupider by the day allowing this filth on tv. TV is the babysitter of children. I don't want to watch this filth and kids see crap everyday. Television teaches children the wrong messages. Television cannot get any worse, can it? This country is in trouble viewing these shows. Are you listening to complaints?

i emailed and wrote to comedy central about my moms gangbang with one of my friends cousins and his friends about years ago and harassed them [comedy central] for about 6 years out of seven.

the guy who had sex with my mother name is joseph trapani (guessing last name) what i read on the show description was 'starring joeseeph gordon levitt and mumford and sons' or something then on the actual show there were very uncomfortable skits and material with the subtext of me comedy central pulled the same shit on me, now nbc's snl is doing it to.

fine them or make them never do this again, i almost tried to kill myself because of that show

Problem Description

The program that aired Thursday, September 20th, 2012 at 8:00 p.m. was a re-run of Saturday Night Live's program (which usually airs at 11:30 p.m.) I have watched SNL off and on for years and am used to the content. My husband and I decided to watch SNL last night since the Tampa Bay Rays weren't playing so well against the Red Sox. Needless to say, we were both appalled that the phrase "his penis was partly exposed" was spoken (when referring to one of the attendees at a the polical national convention.) Later in the program, the "Drunk Uncle" character made several vulgar and inappropriate statements regarding breasts (using several nicknames for them.) Although my daughter is grown and it was just my husband and I (who are by no means prudes,) we were both shocked by the content airing so early in the evening. Frankly, it crossed the line of decency in every sense of the word. It was so inappropriate that we changed the channel and discussed filing a complaint. I have never taken the time to do this. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

NBC should not only be ashamed of the content, but should be held accountable to any violations committed.

If this kind of garbage is allowed by the FCC, then shame on you for contributing to the downfall of common decency and respect.

Saturday Night Live aired their 100th SNL Digital Short during the broadcast. I found the segment to be very obscene. I am frankly shocked that it was allowed to air by NBC in the first place. It featured cast members of SNL and guest stars performing a song about "sucking (their) own c**ks" and singing several times "I'm gonna suck my own dick" or something similar. while they bleep the word "cock" it was very understandable what word they are using. Then using fake lower torsos, they pretend to be performing the action that they referred to. No real or fake genitalia are seen but the merely mentioning the action and simulating it to gain shock value is disgusting and outrageous. The SNL Short can be found here in it's entirety as broadcast on NBC: <http://www.nbc.com/saturday-night-live/video/clips/1401418/>

I am a regular viewer of Saturday Night Live and they are known for irreverent off color humor but this takes the cake. It was not funny, and it was beyond vulgar. The segment even includes Justin Timberlake whom was involved in the Janet Jackson Superbowl stunt.

I don't typically watch SNL because of it's offensive material. In this instance, we had company over and it happened to be on. Unfortunatley, our 2 children were also in the room. They had a spoof of Clint Eastwood's Superbowl commercial for Chrysler. In the spoof the 'Clint Eastwood' character was talking about the presidential candidates and clearly said the word 'pus*y' in the clip. I was taken aback at the crude and offensive remark especially on REGULAR TV, not cable. I hope the FCC can start taking back the airwaves and bring back just plain common decency.

Saturday Night Live airs Saturday after Saturday with mostly smut and garbage. We know that rock stars have a history of wild parties and drug abuse, and sex scandals behind the scene. We know that Hollywood is a large game of taking advantage of viewers in order to gain fanship. It doesn't matter in what manner, that these lyrics were written and produced, this encourages viewers and aspiring actors to reach the conclusion that the world will still love and accept them with all of the same publicity and loyalty when they break the law as when they don't. There are numerous album lyrics on this album that I have never listened to, but in researching Jimmy Fallon's character and NBC I find that it's not necessarily talent that is giving these people limelight, and fame. <http://www.lyricsondemand.com/1/lonelyislandlyrics/cocainelyrics.html>
